RE: Portland Police Bureau Training Complex

Dear Bill:

The Police Bureau training staff have been enjoying their new 80,000 square foot training complex since they moved in last September. Part of that enjoyment is their two new 50 yard indoor firing ranges with a ventilation system designed and installed by Carey's.

As Project Manager, I just wanted to say thank you for the work you and your company did for us in the construction of the ranges. Your willingness to advise, guide and help us through the complexities of the design and installation of both the range equipment and ventilation system was very much appreciated.

Please feel free to use me as a reference to any future clients. I would be happy to let them know how well you and your company worked with us, and not even a change order!

Best Regards,

Rich Attridge
